

St. Peter's Episcopal Church at Third and Pine Streets in Philadelphia held its first services in September 1761. The white box pews and beautiful wine-glass pulpit have remained unchanged through more than 215 years of continuous worship.

From an original etching by M. M. Taylor.

---